

Title: Laboratory Technician Apprenticeship

Hours of Work: 37.5 hours per week to include training

Salary: £16009

Place of Work: Porton Down Scientific Park

Training Establishment: TBC

Fluorogenics Limited is a life science company who manufactures reagents used in medical test products. The science focus is a mix of biological and chemical sciences. Fluorogenics are recruiting apprentices to work within part of a very 'close-knit' and 'good-humoured' team to assist in our delivery of these products.

Applicants interests in developing both biological and scientific skills shall be fulfilled through a mix of on-the- job-training and formal study. A massive desire to learn and self-motivation is considered necessary to achieve this. Progression shall be rewarded. The new appointees shall exhibit good numeracy, literacy, ability to receive instruction, then to carry out this work with and attention to detail

These appointments within the operations team of Fluorogenics LIMITED. This shall be to assist with the running of the operations and research & development laboratories. Responsibilities include:

- Maintain compliance of the Quality Management System
- Maintain compliance with the health and safety policy
- Assist with the preparation, manufacture, and finishing of product
 - Labelling
 - Racking of vessels
 - Dispensing
 - Dry cabinet packing and sealing
 - Goods out preparation
 - Goods in Support
 - Receipt, booking in and labelling of goods
 - Stock rotation
 - Goods in purchase requests
 - General Lab Support
 - Cleaning
 - Restocking
 - Recording of lab measurement data

Contact in first instance with CV and cover letter email: Ian.Nuttall@fluorogenics.co.uk